HealthWrights Needs Your Assistance!

As the world's financial crisis continues, more and more people and organizations are affected—including us! Many of our friends are no longer able to give as they had in the past, so again, we are asking that you give whatever you can to help us continue our work.

Every month, through our workshops, books, videos and the Web, many thousands of people receive lifesaving and life changing training and information. Please, contribute what you can.

Your Donation will go a long way!

Two Exciting Disability Workshop Videos From Colombia and India Colombia edition available in Spanish and English

In the last two years HealthWrights has created two new videos of David Werner's disability workshops. The first was based on his 2005 visit to India, where he conducted CBR workshops in three regions. The second, now also available in Spanish, is based on workshops he led in Colombia in February, 2008. Each of these workshops provided material for extensive narrated slide shows, detailing the interactive process of the workshop participants, the disabled individuals, and their families.

These heartwarming, yet pragmatic stories show how, by working together and putting the disabled person at the center of the process, assistive devices can be tailor made to better fit his or her needs.

Available for $15.00 (poor country price: $3)
